

Scaramanga Marketing launches Digital Accessibility

Thursday 16 May, 2024

London, 16th May 2024 - in response to the pervasive issue of poor website accessibility and the need for digital inclusion, Scaramanga Marketing announces the launch of Digital Accessibility on Global Accessibility Awareness Day 2024.

Designed for website owners, project managers, technical/developer teams and the digitally curious, this service empowers businesses to create digital experiences accessible to all users, regardless of ability or disability, to create a more inclusive digital environment for all.

Statistics from the Department of Work and Pension's Family Resources Survey reveal that in the UK, nearly a quarter of the population has a disability. Digital Accessibility takes a step towards championing accessibility in the UK, aiming to create a more equitable online environment for all users.

"At Scaramanga, we believe that accessibility is more than just a legal requirement - it's good business practice," said Claire Scaramanga, Director at Scaramanga Marketing. "By prioritising inclusivity, businesses not only fulfil their ESG strategies but also demonstrate a commitment to doing what's right for the 16 million people in the UK with disabilities."

Leading by example, the Digital Accessibility website itself adheres to the strictest accessibility requirements outlined by the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG), achieving the AAA standard, the highest of its kind. It incorporates features such as high-contrast text and closed caption for pre-recorded video content.

"As advocates for digital accessibility, we invite businesses and organisations to join us in our mission towards inclusivity," added Simon Leadbetter, The Accessibility Guy at Digital Accessibility. "We're offering a Charter, an agreement that organisations, web agencies and developers can sign up to in order to underline their commitment to accessibility. Together, we can create a digital landscape where everyone has equal access and opportunity."

Digital Accessibility offers various packages, including accessibility audits and workshops, designed for both technical teams and content creators to equip themselves with the knowledge and tools needed to create accessible digital experiences:
