Scottish Guitarist & Composer Finds Continued Success

Friday 31 January, 2025

Los Angeles, California, United States – January 31, 2025 – Braveheart Music, a pioneering brand in the music industry, is poised to unveil the outstanding accolades of Brandon Brown, a trailblazing guitarist and talented songwriter/composer. Originally, Brandon Brown hails from Glasgow, Scotland and presently lives in the city of Los Angeles, United States. His musical path has attained laudable achievements owing to the new deal signed with BMG, the world's largest independent music publishing company. Brandon had previously signed a deal with BMG and Artium Entertainment in 2021.

The Scotland born artist's love for music motivated him into guitar playing and composition. Brandon Brown's unique style cuts across classical training and modern innovation, producing an attention grabbing style for great audiences and professionals of like minds. As Brandon relocated to Los Angeles, he has welcomed other multi-talented artists, developing the music for Verona, Deadpool (Meta), What If (Marvel), The Last Frontier (Apple TV), Bridgerton (Netflix), and The Green Veil (Peacock).In addition, his partnership with Jack Harlow, the Billboard Music Award-winning rapper, in 2019 gained him significant recognition, blending genres and creating innovative soundscapes that resonate with contemporary listeners.

Brandon's dedication to his musical career has earned him an extraordinary position as an established star in the global music sphere. His continued collaboration with BMG illustrates his solidified presence in the music industry, where he will continue working with the top artists in the entertainment field.

Notably, one of Brandon's numerous credits includes music for Marvel's critically acclaimed animated television series "What If," where Brandon contributed immensely to the show, highlighting his creativity in compelling musical narratives, which significantly elevated the overall storytelling of the show.. More so, Brandon's collaborative effort with Disney, where he composed music for popular shows such as "Vampirina" and "Mira, Royal Detective," has brought substantial praise, earning him an Emmy nomination Best Original Song for an Animated TV Show for his work on "Mira, Royal Detective". He is further submitting his work on the show "What If" for Grammy and Emmy awards for the 2025 award season.

Gazing into the future, Brandon's music will be featured in the much awaited movie ‘'Verona's Romeo & Juliet," starring Rebel Wilson, which is set to premiere in theaters on Valentine's Day 2025. This upcoming project will display his versatile and skillful composing skills in cinema.

Brandon's collaborations with renowned composers is an outstanding musical feat. In his journey, he has teamed up with Oscar-winning film composer Patrick Doyle, Oscar-nominated composer John Powell, and Golden Globe-nominated composer Christopher Young. These achievements have promoted and also underscored his collaborative ability to make giant strides.

Founded to amplify the voices of unique and talented artists, Braveheart Music, L.L.C. is committed to showcasing extraordinary musical talent. Based in Los Angeles, the company provides a platform for artists like Brandon Brown to share their artistry with the world.

Brandon Brown's journey from Glasgow to Los Angeles, and from independent musician to BMG-signed composer, is a testament to his talent, hard work, and passion for music. Braveheart Music, L.L.C. is proud to support his flourishing career and looks forward to sharing his future achievements with the world.
