Strong, versatile, durable, and able to withstand the most tremendous heat, cast iron cookware has an understandable desirability. The new Judge Sizzle & Serve collection combines cast iron's inherent benefits with the natural aesthetic beauty of honey-toned maple wood, making this the ultimate oven to table solution.

Comprising three gratin dishes and a large oval platter with detachable serving handle, the Sizzle and Serve range is suitable for all hob types and barbeques, and is oven-safe up to 240°C. Naturally non-stick (once seasoned with oil) the cast iron surface is easily cleaned, while the heat-resistant wooden stands brings a touch of grace to the rugged metal finish, and ensures that the hot cast iron will not damage table tops.

Cast iron cooking comes with health benefits too – with a well-seasoned pan you require less oil, it offers a chemical-free alternative to non-stick, and surprisingly, the pans can imbue your food with iron, which is hugely beneficial to health, but won't detriment the flavour of your food.

With prices starting at just £13, the new Judge Sizzle & Serve cast iron cookware collection seamlessly combines practicality and performance. Hot stuff!
