

Snow & Alps on a growth course: The operator of the largest reservation system for ski extras in the Alps is gaining new investors.

Tuesday 7 January, 2014

Munich, January 06, 2014 – Successful funding for young tourism company: Snow & Alps, operator of the largest reservation system for ski extras & outdoor activities in the Alps, today announced funding of nearly one million euros from the Bonn-based High-Tech Gründerfonds as well as from the traditional venture capital investor EXTOREL Falk F. Strasczeg. The investment will be used to further intensify the rapid growth of the company and to develop new markets.

In just one year, Snow & Alps has already attracted some 600 providers in over 200 destinations across the Alpine area as partners for its booking portal. Additionally, the company has set up a strong distribution network of more than 100 partnerships with European online portals, online travel agencies and tour operators. Apart from the distribution network, Snow & Alps succeeded in setting up Snowbon.com as the largest online booking portal for ski extras.

Said Stefan Wendel, Investment Manager at High-Tech Gründerfonds: "Snow and Alps convinced us with its B2B booking system and what was a hitherto unique offering of providers and sales partners. In this way, travel agencies / portals are able for the first time to offer more than just arrivals/departures and overnights."

"Snowbon is the ideal system to use as a contemporary way of booking ski lift tickets, skiing equipment and other services conveniently from your home," adds Mr Strasczeg.

"We are very pleased that we were again able to win Falk Strasczeg (EXTOREL) who – together with HTGF – are an investor with whose help and capital we can pursue our structures and further growth. The investment has brought new impetus and additional opportunities that we will be realising in the coming period", commented founder and CEO Tim Huonker, speaking of the investors' participation.

About Snow & Alps

With a selection of around 600 providers in more than 200 destinations in the Alpine area, Snow & Alps acts as a consolidator for activities in the Alps and – as a multi-channel distribution solutions provider – brings travel industry and customers together. With a main focus on ski passes, ski hire and ski schools, the company was able to establish itself on the market with a central booking system. The interface to the travel industry and directly to the end customer provides suppliers and associations with targeted yield management for their utilization, as well as the development of new distribution channels. The travel industry does not just benefit from additional spin-off products but also from complementing its range by offering its customers individually-tailored travel modules. End users can access the ski extras directly via the company's own website www.snowbon.com, thus enjoying a worry-free start to their well-deserved winter holiday.
