Social Media for Dogs?

Social Canines is more than that. Social Canines has been created to allow dog lovers and dog service providers of the world to meet in one place and communicate.

The team behind Social Canines are first and foremost dog owners and dog lovers. We all know what it is like to own dogs. We have backgrounds and friendships going back many years with a wealth of experience in management, information technology, web development and customer satisfaction.

David Morgan and Andrew J. Speed, both Directors from Sure Communication (sur.co.uk) Ltd a respected player in Web Development and Ecommerce and Phil Taylor a Sussex entrepreneur, have created and are now launching Social Canines for the dog loving community to use and enjoy.

The site is responsive for desktop computers, tablets and mobile devices allowing users to interact, form groups, join forum discussions and list themselves on the Social Canine Directory.
