SOCIALBOX.BIZ'S TOP PRIORITY IS SECURITY WHEN RECYCLING CORPORATE ELECTRONICS

Tuesday 2 February, 2016

SocialBox.Biz, a London-based recycling and storage social venture business, is making a name for itself as the most secure UK handler when it comes to corporate and business electronics. Complications arise when corporations elect to recycle or rehome their redundant electronics. SocialBox.Biz has made it clear security is their top priority when it comes to transporting, storing, and clearing corporation's IT components.

“We want as many businesses and corporations across the UK to recycle, up-cycle, and rehome their unwanted and unused laptops, computers, and servers,” said Simon Paul spokesperson for the company. “The point of SocialBox.Biz is to provide an easy way to recycle redundant electronics. The first step in getting these massive corporations to agree is making sure our storage facilities and data removal capabilities are the best in the business.”

SocialBox.Biz offers document storage, IT storage, and office furniture storage in secured warehouses. Inside these warehouses, the business owns secured boxes designed to hold and protect viable information. They also offer secure transportation services and even top security data removal tools onsite.

“Wiping servers clean of valuable information before recycling them can be a daunting task,” said Paul. “Many times, this is why companies altogether skip over recycling their electronics that are in perfect condition. We are here to make the process easier. We have trained workers who can securely clear all servers and computers onsite, load them into protected containers, and transport them to secured warehouses with boxes designed specifically to hold important components.”

The business is also offering hard disk and other device destruction on and off site. A one-stop-shop for all storage, recycling, and security needs.
