South East Labels announce new machine

Thursday 31 January, 2013

South East Labels are excited to announce the purchase of a brand new label machine. This comes as part of a large expansion within the company, including doubling of office and production space, to keep up with the current demand.

Large label productions have increased by 50% The new 450mm wide label converter has been specially customized and tailored to meet the company's needs. Not only does the new compact layout minimize paper wastage, it can also produce larger labels in bigger quantities much faster than before, decreasing machine downtime and maximizing efficiency. So not only is it vastly more cost effective, but more sustainable too.

South East Labels are combining their years of industry experience and their new expansion to ensure that the prices of their bulk quantity products continue to be highly competitive. The company expansion has been done on a real time sales basis, ensuring a sensible and reliable growth, meaning they can continue to pass this saving onto their customers.

With the economy as fragile as it is, it's important to make sure your money is spent wisely to maximize your growth as a business.
