

Sturdy Luggage with Up to 60% Off at SportsDirect.com

Thursday 19 April, 2012

As travelling abroad becomes more of a luxury than ever to the British public in 2012, sticking to a holiday budget will be an essential element to helping save money and spend wisely. Given that Air Passenger Duty (APD) increased on the 1st April 2012 (source- ABTA) for both economy and premium travellers, holiday makers are constantly looking for more ways to save money on other travel items.

SportsDirect.com, one of the UKs leading luggage retailers, has recently reduced its range of suitcases and luggage sets to help cut the cost of travelling. Many of the suitcases, including full suitcase sets from trusted brands such as Dunlop and No Fear now have up to 60% discount on the reference price across a variety of styles.

For families, travelling on the cheap is now even cheaper with the SportsDirect.com discount on suitcase sets, available in sets of three through to six, everyone gets their own suitcase as well as a range of hand luggage options. Suitcase sets start from just £45 online and are available for 24 hour delivery.

Solo travellers, or holiday makers who prefer to travel light can take advantage of these amazing discounts too; the No Fear four wheeled suitcase is available for just £15 and can be used as hand luggage on major British airlines including British Airways, Ryanair, BMI Baby and Virgin*.

Wherever the skies take you, packing for the trip has never been easier or cheaper thanks to the www.sportsdirect.com/deals.
