THE UK'S BIGGEST AND OLDEST NATIONAL STUDENT AND GRADUATE BUSINESS PITCHING COMPETITION LAUNCHES FOR 2020 - A CELEBRATION OF STUDENT ENTERPRISE ACROSS THE UK.

Noon, Wednesday 3rd June 2020 – The Tata Varsity Pitch Competition 2020 opens for applications, inviting innovative business owners the chance to win £15,000 to help fund their early stage businesses.

Tata Varsity Pitch Competition 2020, powered by NACUE (National Association of College and University Entrepreneurs) is a national initiative dedicated to both current students and recent graduates celebrating high potential, early stage ventures coming directly out of colleges and universities across the UK.

The competition has grown dramatically in that time and the Tata group's profile has risen significantly amongst the entrepreneurial eco-system across the UK as they have been a supporter of the competition from its inception through its various companies. Alongside the £15,000 prize fund, there will be other benefits too - finalists will have access to significant in-kind support such as expert advice on business plans, pitching skills and to how to professionally network a room - whether that's in person or online!

To date, the competition has received over 2,500 outstanding entries from ambitious and aspiring entrepreneurs from educational institutions throughout the UK with an increase in quality year-on-year. Exceptionally high caliber startups have been actively involved in social enterprise, from repurposing waste chicken feathers into sustainable housing materials, reducing the amount of injuries of cyclists through projecting laser lights to avoid blind spots, to the development of aids to improve water sanitation in under-served communities, to the creation of a revolutionary itch-management products that aid children suffering with Eczema.

Tata Varsity Pitch Competition will release a national call for innovative business solutions to submit a 60 second video elevator pitch to all current students or those who graduated since 2015 from any UK education institution. 30 startups will be invited to pitch to a panel of esteemed judges in October and compete for one of the 7 finalist spots. The finalists will have the opportunity to attend a two-day bootcamp two weeks before the Grand Final with a lineup of industry professionals who will ensure they are well prepped for the big day. The finalist entrepreneurs will compete at the Grand Final in November 2020 during Global Entrepreneurship Week for the opportunity to take home a national title and £15,000 equity free funding.

Tim Jones CBE, Executive Director at Tata Limited commented: "Tata Varsity Pitch is a phenomenal opportunity for business-minded students and recent graduates to develop their potential. The global challenges faced by us all this year have shown that we must be ready to adapt to our situation and champion innovative ideas. We are proud to continue our work with NACUE to support today's entrepreneurs as they strive to become the future of tomorrow's ever-changing world."

Timothy Barnes, Chair of NACUE's Board of Trustees, welcomed the launch of the 2020 programme, saying "The Tata Varsity Pitch Competition has grown over ten years to become the UK's leading inter-varsity programme for exceptional new business ideas led by drive, talented students from across the country. Each of these individuals and their ventures is to be celebrated and promoted. They will receive support from NACUE's network and Tata group companies as they launch and grow, providing the jobs and innovation that we will all need in the wake of the Covid-19 crisis.

We wish them all well and look forward to watching them flourish, provide employment and inspire others to strike out in pursuit of their own dreams and experiences as previous Tata Varsity Pitch participants have done."
