TDR Connect Ltd. Promote Direct Marketing as Fundamental Part of Business Growth Strategy

Thursday 20 February, 2014

TDR Connect Ltd, an outsource sales and direct marketing firm in Dublin promote the benefits of outsourcing their services for their effective sales and marketing campaigns.
Across Ireland and Europe, outsourced direct marketing firms are becoming more popular with large scale clients due to the quantifiable results that are achieved by this form of sales and marketing.

MD of TDR Connect Matthew O Hara says he credits direct marketing services as a fundamental part of the firm's business growth strategy. TDR Connect believes marketing campaigns to businesses is hugely beneficial to those who are less experienced in the marketing sector. They provide their clients with a service that increases their client's sales, customer retention and results in an enhanced growth and return on investment.

TDR Connect specialise in event, business to consumer and business to business marketing which has given the firm a competitive advantage to their success. Mathew O Hara comments "Our marketing strategies allows for more exposure and the opportunity to directly communicate, interact and respond to consumers. This direct method helps secure new customers as well as keeping existing ones. TDR Connect reveal that by engaging with consumers directly, and offering a personalised individual experience, this method generates more sales leads for their clients as well as boosts their brand awareness and customer retention.

TDR Connects will not only achieve fantastic results for clients, but will be able to gain benefits from other areas in their own business. Outsourcing enables businesses to focus in other key areas of their business that needs more attention which allows for greater cost and efficiency savings, reduces overhead, enhances operation control and encourages flexible staffing. MD Matthew O Hara comments "TDR Connects wide range of experience with different clients, through different business sectors is equally advantageous for businesses on both sides".

Within the last few years, the demand for TDR Connect services has escalated to unprecedented levels. Due to their loyalty and dedication to clients and achieving outstanding results, TDR Connect want to continue with these high standards and have a continuous close connection with their clients. MD Matthew O Hara believes that his client's satisfaction with the services he provides is his number one priority.
