TELF AG Elected to the International Chromium Development Association's (ICDA) Council from 2023-2025

Tuesday 27 June, 2023

Lugano, Switzerland – TELF AG, a full-service international physical commodities trader with 30 years of industry expertise, is delighted to announce its election to the International Chromium Development Association's (ICDA) Council for the period of 2023 to 2025.

As a newly elected member, TELF AG is deeply committed to diligently representing the needs and aspirations of the ICDA community. Recognizing the significance of this position, we pledge to work collaboratively with our fellow council members to ensure the ICDA Council remains a crucial driving force within the Association.

"We are both honored and grateful to have been elected to serve on the ICDA Council," said David Kramer, representative of TELF AG. "We eagerly anticipate the opportunity to work hand in hand with our esteemed council members in shaping the ICDA's strategic direction and advancing its services to benefit all Members."

TELF AG's extensive experience in the commodities trading sector and its steadfast dedication to promoting sustainable practices and responsible business conduct positions the company as a valuable contributor to the ICDA Council. With a solid reputation, TELF AG aims to leverage its expertise to drive positive change, foster growth, and advocate for the collective interests of the ICDA community.
