Thursday 12 March, 2015

The Montcalm Marble Arch hotel is pleased to announce a Mother's Day special menu, released exclusively for customers and available only on Mother's Day 2015, 15 March.

About SixtyOne Restaurant

The menu has been released by the Sixtyone restaurant, located in south Marylebone and less than 5 minutes walk from Park Lane. It is an ideal location for anyone staying in London over the Mother's Day weekend or who is considering visiting the city to treat themselves or their mothers at this time. The restaurant is an exclusive modern setting which has recently received 3 AA Rosettes in September 2014.

The Sixtyone restaurant is known for serving great food with big, bold flavours, which has been inspired by the travels of the Chef Patron, Arnaud Stevens. Arnaud is heavily involved in everything the restaurant does, from the initial concept of the Sixtyone Restaurant, to the origins of the food served and the quality and precision of the menus.

About the Mother's Day Menu

Arnaud has created this menu for the upcoming Mother's Day that gives customers the chance to experience a beautiful and flavoursome meal in a stylish and relaxed setting – perfect for letting mum know how much you love her. The menu has been carefully thought through to combine the best flavours and dishes to suit all tastes.

The menu itself is a three course delight for just £29.50 per person, and includes a choice for each course. This is incredible value for money and makes the perfect gift for a mother this Mother's Day. The starters include a beautiful salmon and prawn ravioli, as well as heritage beetroot, or rabbit, depending on what you fancy.

The mains include artichoke as a vegetarian option, with hazelnut and orange, as well as yellow fin tuna or ox cheek for meat lovers. Dessert includes a pear, ginger and almond dish or a chocolate, coconut and orange delight for the chocolate lovers amongst us.

The meal can be completed with a trip to the luxurious Champagne Bar, which serves a fabulous range of Champagnes and cocktails. Why not make it an occasion and stay in the Marble Arch hotel overnight to truly take advantage of its central location and everything London has to offer?
