

The Robes Makeup made for High Class Females

Monday 5 December, 2016

The Robes Cosmetics, also known as The Robes Makeup, are special beauty products made under The Robes Brand to enhance the appearance and give a fresher look for its customers who are always categorised as the top class ladies and girls of societies. The Robes Makeup products are manufactured in compliance with relative and governing laws and regulations, in addition to being certified by the ISNA Halal Certification Agency in strict compliance with its terms and conditions. This is the basis of The Robes' philosophy in making its products, relying on international certified laboratories and manufacturers to mix, test, make and pack The Robes Makeup for its distinguished customers who consider The Robes their first choice, a trusted brand that always gives a modern touch to its products and looks to the future.

The Robes Cosmetics are designed for use on the face in general, especially on the lips, cheeks and eyes. The Robes Makeup products are generally derived from natural sources, with safe chemical compounds added when necessary under careful monitoring and health certification conditions. Common lines of The Robes Cosmetics include lipstick, mascara, eye shadow, foundation, rouge and skin lotions. The Robes Makeup is intended to beautify and promote attractiveness, without affecting the face's structure or functions, which is always a main concern of The Robes management. Noura AJ, The Robes founder, said: 'The Robes Makeup will be made available for customers worldwide via The Robes official website www.therobes.com in the first quarter of 2017. We are striving to introduce world class products for high class females, as we have been doing in our dress design and quality for years.'
