

The Safeguarding Company secures 5-year contract with the Church of England for new National Safeguarding Case Management System

Thursday 30 September, 2021

The Safeguarding Company is pleased to announce that The Archbishops Council of The Church of England has awarded the company a new, 5-year contract to provide their Queen's Award-winning safeguarding software - MYCONCERN®, as the Church's national safeguarding case management system. The software, developed by experts in child and adult safeguarding is designed to enable organisations to securely record and case manage all types of safeguarding concerns. Martin Baker QPM, the CEO of The Safeguarding Company said

"We feel privileged to be selected by The Church of England to support the Church, its clergy and its members in their vital work to protect those at risk of harm".

Initially launched in 2014 in the education sector, MyConcern is already widely used in faith settings, including The Church in Wales and is trusted by organisations across the UK and in over 30 countries to help them protect both children and adults at risk.
