

The Staycation Guide of the Summer

Friday 31 July, 2020

Hi there,

Many of us are planning staycations this year, given the restrictions, so we're all going to need some inspiration for new places to visit, particularly with the kids.

To help us all with the 'what shall we do today?' question digital fundraising platform DONATE™ launches a Summer Guide packed full of national treasures, museums, beaches and walks that are perfect for those wanting to explore the UK on staycations this summer.

From the home of Sir Walter Scott, Abbotsford near Edinburgh, to the iconic Sherwood Forest, the guide is full of key info for parents, including whether there are entry fees, parking and facilities.

Many of the locations featured are run by charities/charitable organisations so encouraging visitors to return is crucial for some.

Guide here and attached as a PDF.

Let me know if you can run,
