Tim Meredith Appointed CEO of VoIPstudio, Signaling Next Phase of Growth

Tuesday 1 July, 2025

London, UK, [1st July 2025], VoIPstudio, part of Level 7 Systems Ltd, today announced the appointment of Tim Meredith as Chief Executive Officer. Tim is set to continue the growth established by Chris Maciejewski, who remains as Owner and Director, focusing on product technology and platform innovation.

Chris Maciejewski has successfully steered VoIPstudio from a promising startup into a significant global presence in cloud-based business communications. Under Chris's visionary leadership, VoIPstudio consistently delivered reliable, cost-effective, and feature-rich solutions to businesses worldwide, building a reputation for technological excellence, incredible support, and customer-focused innovation for over a decade.

“I am delighted to welcome Tim as CEO,” said Chris Maciejewski. “Tim’s extensive experience across engineering, product management, marketing, and commercial leadership uniquely positions him to guide VoIPstudio's next chapter. His strategic vision and industry expertise will undoubtedly accelerate our growth and help us deliver even more value to our customers.”

Tim Meredith brings a wealth of experience, having started his career managing IP and voice networks and whose career progressed through product directorship, and senior marketing and commercial leadership. Tim has previously held executive positions in leading telecom and cloud software companies, consistently delivering growth through innovative strategies and customer-centric solutions.

Commenting on his new role, Tim Meredith stated: “I'm thrilled to have the opportunity to support VoIPstudio's next phase of growth, with our innovative products offering a powerful, cost-effective alternative to traditional players in the global business communications market. Chris and his team have achieved sustained success over many years, and that mission of rapid market disruption and delivery of real business value to new and existing customers will continue at pace.”

Looking ahead, VoIPstudio customers can expect exciting enhancements, including advanced AI-powered transcription services, insightful call summaries, and customer experience (CX) scoring. Additionally, the launch of a new visual call flow editor will simplify comms configurations dramatically, while streamlined integrations with AI voice agents and CRMs are set to boost productivity significantly. Strategic partnerships will further enable rapid adoption of cutting-edge technology at an accessible cost, ensuring customers stay ahead in their markets.

VoIPstudio continues to lead the charge in transforming business communications through smart innovation, seamless integration, and unmatched customer value.
