Pi Industries encourage individuals to visualize the end goal to help quash irrational fears, and halt fears before they become too debilitating.

A popular go to quote from the firm was ranked 43 in March 2013, in the Forbes 100 most inspirational quotes 'Everything you've ever wanted is on the other side of fear' --George Addair. Pi Industries try to inspire those around them to push boundaries, become brave and face their business fears.

Pi Industries share their five tips to overcoming fears;

1. It all starts with YOU. – Entrepreneurs need to make the first step by accepting the only person who can tackle fear is themselves directly. Pi Industries believe that by understanding goals and obstacles it will offer the individual the focus to be brave and overcome a fear.

2. Trust your intuition. – Gut instincts are important in business they allow a business person to seize an opportunity or remove it for calculated risk purposes. To become successful in business speed of decisions can be crucial in grabbing an opportunity.

3. Be brave. - Pi Industries creates opportunities for its contractors to push boundaries and step out of comfort zones as they understand this is how individuals will grow, by consistently offering learning opportunities it allows the shackles of fear to be abolished and an individual's full potential to be achieved.

4. Stand in your spotlight. – Entrepreneurship is not for the faint hearted. By standing proud when business accomplishments are made it allows individuals to appreciate achievements and it will showcase hidden skills.

5. Chase progress over perfection. – By breaking down goals it will allow checkpoints to be acknowledged and celebrated. It is important to build confidence and morale along the way; It will create a personal strength against fear that is felt rather than seen.

At Pi Industries they use event marketing campaigns to make personal connections with consumers. Their direct and personalised approach allows them to build brand loyalty, increase customer acquisition and raise brand awareness. At Pi Industries they prepare their sales contractors with all the relevant product knowledge so they are able to represent their clients with total confidence, professionalism and transparency.

The firm's confident sales contractors are able to encourage consumers to have confidence in the brand, which encourages more sales. The firm prides itself on its ability to study behavioural marketing in a live setting. Their contractors are selected on their ability to personalise the customer experience during customer engagement.
