- TopUp Consultants will moderate the Big Data discussion and Co-Host other discussions at Propteq 2016
- Propteq Europe 2016 is the networking event for the world's leading PropTech innovators.

London, England, May 23, 2016. TopUp Consultants have confirmed their sponsorship of Propteq Europe 2016, the Property technology & innovation summit for Europe.

The event lands in London on 2nd June 2016 and will be attended by participants travelling from more than 17 countries.

Brian Brosnan, Founder of Propteq, says, "We are delighted to have TopUp Consultants present at Propteq as they are a well-established software consultancy and manufacturer within the global Real Estate industry. They are seen as leading experts in the field of PropTech and FinTech, so their input in both the discussions and networking during the event will prove to be invaluable"

TopUp's deep industry knowledge has enabled them to build a portfolio of highly specialised insight solutions that tackle the pain points of data and processing, experienced within the property sector.

"At TopUp we believe in best of breed solutions" says Dean Nixon, TopUp's Technical Director, "and Propteq 2016 is the ideal opportunity for us to experience the latest innovations for the industry."

TopUp Consultants are moderating the "Big Data" discussion and will be co-hosted by Dean Nixon, who leads the Business Intelligence and Analytics division. TopUp Consultants will also be co-hosting other discussions such as "Global PropTech" and "Technology & Innovation", giving participants not only the chance to gain insights from TopUp's two decades of experience but also learn from others.

It is Propteq's inaugural event for the worlds Innovators and Users of Property Technology (PropTech) that will enable you to network, meet and understand more about how technology solutions are shaping the Real Estate landscape and learn more about the future of innovation in the property sector.

If you would like to arrange a meeting with any member of TopUp Consultants at the event, please drop us a meeting request on our Events page or email Rebecca.Milton@topupconsultants.com
