THE LONDON FOREX SHOW 2018

A one-day exhibition and event for today's retail trader

Friday 23rd February 2018; Novotel London West

Today's trader faces some very tough choices. The good news is – there has never been so much information, so many different trading options and new strategies to choose from. The bad news is - there has never been so much information, so many different trading options, and new strategies to choose from.

The London Forex Show, sponsored by FinecoBank, Globitex and Bitstocks is here to help traders navigate their way through an increasingly diverse and opaque industry. To help them plan a clear, achievable path to trading success, by setting realistic goals and finding out how, what and where to go to make them a reality.

"We're glad to take part to The London Forex Show because it gives us the opportunity to show visitors our complete offer of trading products, characterized by a very good value for money. It represents an important chance for FinecoBank, which has recently entered in the extremely competitive and sophisticated UK market with an offer of OTC products such as CFDs with spreads among the best in the market. We're convinced that the solidness of Fineco and its one-stop-solution model, able to meet all financial needs from one single account, will be increasingly appreciated by UK customers."

Paolo Di Grazia, deputy general manager, FINECOBANK, Headline Sponsors of the London Forex Show

With cryptocurrency taking centre-stage at the moment, the London Forex Show provides traders with a chance to hear from professional traders about this exciting new market – and the potential pitfalls to watch out for.

Now in its 8th year, the London Forex Show has welcomed over 15,000 delegates through the doors in that time.

From learning which trading opportunities will best serve their needs, to making new contacts and discovering more about trading: options trading, commodities trading, currency trading and how day trading can complement an existing portfolio. The London Forex Show brings it all together in one place, for one day, for traders.

Silver Sponsors, Bitstocks, said, "Cryptocurrency experienced astronomical levels of interest and growth towards the end of 2017, and as a result, we saw a flood of uneducated money pour into the market when prices were at all-time highs. Many are now sitting with huge losses after one of the most dramatic corrections in recent years. One of the key tenets of Bitstocks is to provide education and share knowledge of this often misunderstood and rather complex market, so as sponsors of this year's event, I am pleased to have the opportunity to do so at the London Forex Show. With a clear understanding of the underlying principles and innate potential of cryptocurrency, as well as a solid evaluation strategy based on coin fundamentals, investors can weather these times of volatility, confident in the fact that utility will prevail, and trump any hype-based positions in the long run."

- Michael Hudson, Founder and CEO, Bitstocks

Liza Aizupiete, Managing Director of Globitex said, "We're delighted to sponsor the London Forex Show – it's a terrific forum for traders to find out more about the fast-moving crypto space, and the companies that can help them, like Globitex".

The London Forex Show features 5 independent trading workshops, a wide range of free seminars, live debates and interviews throughout the day, a 90-minute LIVE trading session, a Lunchtime Summit panel session and a live Cryptocurrency panel session (chaired by Alpesh Patel) as well as an interactive exhibition featuring some of the top banks and brokers, education companies, data providers and trading software – it's a very busy and exciting day for all concerned.
