TRADINGTECK PRESENTS: A NEW WAY TO TRADE AND INVEST IN THE 21ST CENTURY

Monday 9 March, 2020

TradingTeck is proud to launch its new site together with its innovative trading platform, allowing for an especially attractive investment opportunity for everyone who is interested in the financial markets and is not yet familiar with the world of online trading. Focusing solely on transparency and trust, TradingTeck features a variety of useful education & trading tools that can assist traders of all levels with better understanding what are CFDs (Contracts for Differences), how they work and how to trade them.

What is TradingTeck

TradingTeck is an online CFD broker offering a wide variety of assets to its traders. This broker focuses solely on trust and transparency when it comes to dealing with its clients, providing continuous peace of mind throughout the entire trading process. Offering Smart investing combined with innovative technology, it enables any prospective trader to get all the tools needed to enter the financial markets with no hassle. On top of that, it gives an overall sense of security thanks to the personal attention it offers to its clients, from 1-on-1 training sessions to professional education and training. When adding cyber and fiscal security and support to all of that, you understand why it is quite different from most brokers.

The heart and soul of TradingTeck lies in its trading platform. Featuring a completely customizable dashboard, you can connect to the world's major markets only with a click of a button. Delivering a solid trading foundation is what this broker strives for, and this can be achieved through the following: high quality trading tools, accurate and timely information and effective technical and fundamental analysis. As one can see, combining all 3 together creates the cornerstone to successful CFDs trading experience, with more than 1,000 global assets to choose from, such as currency pairs, stocks, commodities, indices and Cryptocurrencies.

As a part of this broker's efforts to allow each and every trader to develop his own personal trading skills, TradingTeck also features a complete and detailed report that summarizes your entire activity, allowing for a complete and transparent picture of any prospective trader strengths and weaknesses.
