

UK breaks air pollution limits for 2017 in just five days

Monday 9 January, 2017

Just five days into the New Year Brixton Road in London has already breached air pollution limits for the whole of 2017, Friends of the Earth reveals today.

EU air pollution rules say that sites can only breach hourly limits of 200 micrograms of Nitrogen Dioxide per cubic metre of air 18 times per year, but

Related Sectors:

Charities & non-profits ::
Environment & Nature ::

Scan Me:

