

UK Men's Shed Announce Shed of the Year Awards finalists

Tuesday 29 October, 2024

UK Men's Shed Association (UKMSA) has announced the finalists for this year's Shed of the Awards, their national award scheme which recognises groups and individuals that make a difference in their Men's Shed and local communities.

"Each year entries get better and better. With more submissions than ever, and of such a high standard, this year's finalists have really highlighted the excellent work they are all doing in their local communities."

"We know how well Men's Shed participation helps with loneliness, social isolation and both physical and mental health. These finalists demonstrate the breadth, depth and creativity of the projects they each undertake and the impact they have on participants and the wider community", commented Rob Lloyd, chair of the Trustees of UKMSA.
