Uproar Vision Set's Their Sights on Nottingham

Wednesday 19 July, 2017

Sales and marketing firm Uproar Vision exclusively announced last week that they would soon be taking their services to Nottingham, which will be the firm's first step towards their UK wide Expansion.

Watford based direct sales and marketing company Uproar Vision hits the ground running and announces their plans for a nationwide expansion of at least ten operations across the UK by 2020. The firm specialises in acquiring new customers to bridge the gap between consumers and clients by conducting promotional, personalised face-to-face sales and marketing campaign. Their success in 2017 has recently led to one of Uproar Vision's Managing Directors winning a significant industry award at this year's Sales and Marketing Gala in London's Mayfair.

Lyudmil Borisov took the prestigious 20/20 Award back to Watford for delivering consistently outstanding results. For Uproar Vision the trophy is a symbol of how passion, innovation and hard work can lead to something extraordinary. It will serve as their motivation to achieve their goal of a nationwide expansion.

Uproar Vision's MD Lyudmil Borisov says: "We are absolutely thrilled having won such an important industry award. It has created a momentum within our business." In fact, after such a significant development, Uproar Vision is excited to confirm that they will soon be opening doors in a second location in Nottingham, alongside their Watford Headquarters. This will be the company's first step towards their UK wide expansion plan over the next three years. Nottingham is the perfect location for Uproar Vision. According to a new national report, it has one of the fastest growing economies of any UK city. In fact, Nottingham's year-on-year economic growth figure of 2.5 percent is comparable to Greater Manchester and higher than Birmingham, Leeds, Liverpool, Newcastle, Bristol or Sheffield. The city's council is aiming to create an economic environment for businesses to grow and prosper.

To ensure that their move is a success, Uproar Vision is aiming to appeal to ambitious individuals looking to establish a career in sales and marketing and share the firm's core values towards training development. Uproar Vision believes in constant learning and offers a programme to help equip participants with the relevant skills and guidance they require to excel and achieve their goals. The programme entitles people to attend networking and coaching events and inspires them to think big. Limitations are in the mind; it is time to write history, believes Uproar Vision. The firm creates a vibrant, welcoming environment where people can be creative and grow and encourages like-minded individuals who are ready to ‘roar' to get in touch.
