Vital Parts Become UK Distributors Of Heyco Products

Wednesday 3 March, 2021

Vital Parts Ltd, a growing manufacturer and distributor of Plastic, Rubber and Metal Components has recently announced a UK wide distribution deal with Heyco, a leading manufacturer of moulded cable protection products and stamped electrical components.

This announcement comes at a time when Vital Parts Ltd have revealed the opening of a new branch in Bournemouth, located on the South Coast of the UK.

Expecting to offer a wide range of Heyco products, Vital Parts Ltd offered the following statement on the new distribution deal;

“It gives us great excitement to announce that we will be adding a number of Heyco solutions to our product inventory throughout 2021 which we believe to be complimentary to our existing ranges. Working with a company of such stature enables us to bring our customers the most innovative products on the market, at highly competitive prices.

We expect to have a comprehensive range of Heyco products by the end of Q2 this year at the very latest, but have already made good progress on a number of solutions which customers are able to purchase either via our website or through our sales department.

Ranges you can expect to see from us include a number of liquid tight strain relief products, domed panel plugs, cable bushings and a host of other market leading cable management solutions.”

Founded in 1926, Heyco are a US based company that are renowned for their in-house manufacturing capabilities, where they are able to meet the high volume demands of their clients. Acquired by Penn Engineering in 2016 Heyco have decades of expertise in their profession, which keeps them at the forefront of the industry for the products and services they offer.
