

Want to be a Wealthy Entrepreneur? Read the Arete22 Guide to Thinking Differently

Friday 24 June, 2016

While many people strive to become wealthy entrepreneurs, very few actually achieve this goal. Liverpool-based supporters of entrepreneurship, Arete22 reveals their guide to becoming a wealthy entrepreneur through adjusting our mind-set and the way we look at certain situations.

About Arete22: <http://www.arete22.com/>

As supporters of entrepreneurship, Arete22 have experience in advising and guiding budding entrepreneurs on their journey to success. Offering mentorship to help them navigate their way to business ownership, the firm take a keen interest in entrepreneurial success stories.

Here, Arete22 have compiled a list of what they believe are the necessary mind-sets for becoming a wealthy entrepreneur.

The clock never stops

There are 24 hours in a day - this is true for everyone; however not everyone utilises all of those hours. Wealthy people don't allow time to limit their earning potential. The employee mentality of clocking in at 9 and clocking off at 5 restricts most people from reaching their full earning potential.

Wealthy entrepreneurs find ways to always be generating money. For example setting up online businesses that run even while their owners are off the clock.

They take the blame

33rd President of the United States, Harry S. Truman was well known for a sign on his desk that read "the buck stops here." Arete22 believes that the same philosophy must be applied for entrepreneurs who want to experience great success.

The firm promotes the concept that wealthy entrepreneurs prevent problems from arising rather than blaming others for creating problems.

They adopt an 'abundance mind-set'

Wealthy entrepreneurs go into every sales pitch with the belief that the customer or client has an unlimited amount of money or budget. By adopting an abundance mind-set, wealthy entrepreneurs exude a confident demeanour and therefore don't become paralysed by the potential to fail. The fear of failure stops average people from pursuing their dreams, claims Arete22.

They take more risks

While most average entrepreneurs will plan and research every possible outcome of an idea, wealthy entrepreneurs will act on an idea as quickly as possible, even if it's not perfect. They understand that taking risks is a part of achieving great success, and they accept the fact that not all ideas will work out well.

They embrace change

While many people fear change and are apprehensive about it, wealthy entrepreneurs anticipate and embrace change. They tend to always be looking around the corner to see where the world is going in order to spot potential opportunities coming their way.

The difference between average and extraordinary people is their ability to act and think differently, explains Arete22.
