Thanks Ethan! Homeless Charity

When a Homeless Charity Profile is purchased, we donate to the Thanks Ethan! homeless charity - the objectives and aims are to work to drastically lower homelessness in our communities

Who is Ethan? – and why are we thanking him?

Ethan was born in Bolton, a town in Greater Manchester, United Kingdom in 1994 and experienced too many tragedies in his short life.

With the loss of his parents and older brother all before he was sixteen Ethan could be excused for not being positive or happy – but he was, most of the time – and being his friend or work colleague was an absolute pleasure – he openly expressed compassion for others who were less fortunate than himself – his amazing personality, infectious laugh and unique aura made time spent with him so memorable.
He became involved in Fiveola in late 2013 and put a considerable amount of time and ideas into the projects but sadly passed away in June 2018 before their final launches.

In January 2019 Ethan's friends and work colleagues thought about how they could thank Ethan for his input to the business and how the business, in remembrance of Ethan, could help rough sleepers and the homeless in Greater Manchester, who Ethan often bought food and hot drinks for, and on several occasions gave away hats, clothes and rucksacks to those who were more in need than he was.

Ethan was always thanking people for helping him get through his life struggles, and Fiveola wishes to thank Ethan for his contribution to the business, so a positive, reflective name was decided upon for a charity which will act upon Ethan's concerns for the homeless – the Thanks Ethan! charity will strive to make a difference.
Although Ethan never spent time rough sleeping, there were times in his life that he sofa-surfed and was faced with eviction and displacement from the family home. The most prominent fear that Ethan always discussed was the one of being homeless – on his way to meetings in Manchester he would stop and ask the homeless if they would if they would like food, a drink, and most importantly a chat - Ethan could talk to everyone and get a laugh and smile – he didn't do it to make himself feel better, he hoped it would make a small difference to someone's day, and now in his name we aim to make a big change to lots of people's lives and futures.

Thanks Ethan! (Ethan's Angels) is a registered United Kingdom charity.

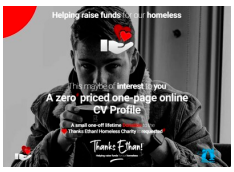

Registered Charity Number 1185129

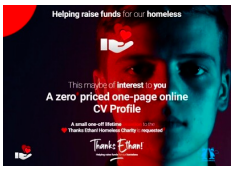

May sweet memories of friends from the past always come to you, when you look for them

And your inspiration, long may it last, may it come to you time and time again

As individuals and businesses face the growing challenges of the cost-of-living crisis, Manchester-based Fiveola Business Profiles and sister brand mypersonalcv Profiles are offering their online services at zero, with a requested donation for the Thanks Ethan! homeless charity, which strives to reduce our nation's homelessness.

Against the backdrop of rising costs, Fiveola has reduced its prices to anyone who donates to the charity. This means that businesses will be able to create a powerful single-page business profile that will help them to gain more exposure, improve their search engine ranking and boost their credibility for a one-time donation of £10, compared to the usual cost of £50.

For those looking for a change of career or seeking home-based work to have that all important and needed second income then mypersonalcv offers an opportunity to create a compelling online CV that will help them to stand out from the crowd and highlight their talents for a one-time donation of £10

Each donation made to Thanks Ethan! goes into a range of projects that are designed to help reduce homelessness across our local and national communities. This is a charity that is very close to the hearts of the team at Fiveola, and as the cost-of-living crisis continues to put huge pressure on people the services provided by Thanks Ethan! are only going to become more vital not just for street people but for struggling families as well.

Speaking on the launch of the new initiative, Charlie Hayes, Media Director at Fiveola said, "People across the UK are struggling with the seemingly never-ending rise in costs, and this year, 2023 is going to be incredibly tough for a lot of businesses and people.

Here at Fiveola, we know all too well the difficulties people are facing, which is why we chose not to sit and do nothing but decided to do something that will help those people most in need. Our new initiative in partnership with Thanks Ethan! will help businesses and individuals take a step forward in these most challenging of times while also helping to raise vital funds for a cause that we care very deeply about."
