

World Rugby and Stepathlon Launch Road to Twickenham

Thursday 5 June, 2025

London, 05.06.2025 - In an exciting first-of-its-kind collaboration, World Rugby and Stepathlon are proud to launch Road to Twickenham powered by Stepathlon – a global fan engagement and wellness initiative designed to uniquely have supporters participate in the biggest ever Women's Rugby World Cup.

This dynamic Virtual Challenge, hosted exclusively on the Rugby World Cup App, kicked off from 100 days to go until the first match of the Women's Rugby World Cup 2025, when hosts England take on USA at the Stadium of Light, in Sunderland on Friday 22nd August.

With Women's Rugby World Cup 2025 already set to be the biggest celebration of women's rugby ever, Road to Twickenham is a great way for all fans to be involved - building the excitement and anticipation of the tournament, and helping fans learn more about the players, teams and venues.

Road to Twickenham invites fans to engage in physical activity, contests and quizzes to win points, move up the leaderboard, compete against other global fans for a chance to win exclusive prizes, including tickets, merchandise and matchday experiences. It will build a global, active, community all looking to engage with Women's Rugby World Cup 2025.

Stepathlon is committed to supporting the growth of women's sport and Road to Twickenham will celebrate the Women's Rugby World Cup and elevate awareness of the women's game by encouraging fans all around the world to get active, participate, and support their favourite teams. Road to Twickenham is for anyone, anywhere, anytime.

Road to Twickenham has also partnered with World Rugby's Global Charity Partner - ChildFund Rugby (<https://www.childfundrugby.org/>) who are harnessing the power of rugby to drive positive social change, supporting children and young people in vulnerable communities.

Road to Twickenham will be conducted in two phases:

Phase 1: Road to Twickenham - 100 Days to Go Prep Sprint (Live until 21st August)

The first challenge, during the lead-up to the Tournament, will encourage participants to embark on a virtual journey through the eight host locations, uncovering iconic landmarks and earning points by completing a series of fun, wellness-based and rugby-inspired tasks. These activities are designed to inspire, educate, and energize fans. Along the way, participants can win exclusive match tickets and other rewards. It sets the stage for the main challenge, building momentum and anticipation as fans gear up for the Tournament.

Phase 2: Road to Twickenham (22nd August – 27th September)

During the Tournament, the virtual course shifts focus to the official Women's Rugby World Cup 2025 stadia, with participants progressing through match-day inspired challenges tied to real-time tournament moments. As fans climb the leaderboard, they unlock the chance to win tickets, merchandise, and once-in-a-lifetime experiences. The Road to Twickenham culminates in a grand finale, with top participants heading to Twickenham to see the Final on Saturday 27th of September live, with exclusive hospitality as part of an unforgettable occasion.

"We're thrilled to launch Road to Twickenham in partnership with Stepathlon," said Sarah Massey, Women's Rugby World Cup 2025 Managing Director. "This initiative offers a fantastic way for fans around the world to get active, engage with women's rugby, and discover more about the players, teams, and venues. With the 2025 tournament set to be the biggest yet, we're excited to provide this unique opportunity for fans to be part of history—wherever they are."

Ravi Krishnan, CEO & Founder of Stepathlon, shared, "As a passionate advocate for the growth and progression of women's sport, I believe we are at a pivotal moment to drive real, lasting impact. Partnering with World Rugby for the Women's Rugby World Cup 2025 allows us to harness that momentum - to help bring more fans into stadiums, amplify the energy of the game, and build a global movement. The Road to Twickenham, powered by Stepathlon isn't just a wellness initiative - it's a Call
